My experiences

I work for Sandwell SENDIASS, which means I help with young people who need it most.

I will help you with workshops that you have a voice over, and the more you share your views the better!

I grew up and live in Birmingham, and went to University to get my Masters in Criminology.

What you should know about me

I work best when the children I work with are happy with the workshops.

Please ask questions if you feel you have any, and I will always be happy to help.

The sessions are about your views and feelings, and I am a good listener so always feel confident to share.
